WEDDINGS AT GUNNERSBURY MANSION

LET US MAKE IT A DAY TO REMEMBER

We welcome you to one of the most sought-after wedding venues in west London; Gunnersbury Park.

Nestled between Chiswick and Ealing, Gunnersbury Park's history dates back to the 11th century when it belonged to the Bishop of London. Over the centuries, ownership has passed through a succession of wealthy families and traces of its' history can still be found in the landscape, planting and surviving buildings.

Set in 72 acres of beautiful parkland, our Grade II* listed venue, Gunnersbury Park House, features a stunning suite of grand reception rooms, designed by architect Sydney Smirke in 1835 when the Rothschild family took ownership of the estate. Following recent restoration, it has been returned to its' former glory and provides a magnificent backdrop for your wedding celebration, creating those precious moments and memories that will last a lifetime. So, whether you are looking for a small intimate ceremony for 10 or a larger, grand wedding reception for 150, Gunnersbury Park House is an elegant and distinctive setting - a unique space for your wedding.

Our highly skilled and experienced team of Event Managers will provide you with a personalised and dedicated service and will be with you every step of the way. Be it flowers, photography, entertainment or transport, we pride ourselves on the standard of care and attention to detail we can bring to your special occasion. We are also delighted to be able to offer you specialised packages which can be tailored to suit your specific wedding requirements to ensure that you and your guests will have a perfect day.

Below are some of beautiful aspects that Gunnersbury has to offer:

GUNNERSBURY PARK HOUSE – THE ROTHSCHILD ROOMS

On their own or used in conjunction with each other, the interconnecting Drawing Room, Conservatory, Long Gallery and Dining Room boast high ornate ceilings and stunning original architectural features and offer the ideal setting for your wedding celebration.

This grand formal room was historically an important space for entertaining so we're proud to continue the tradition to this day. The Drawing Room retains its original architectural features with classical ornamental columns adorned with golden lyres including the monogram of Nathan Mayer Rothschild.

With three stunning French doors that open onto the terrace and south lawns, the Drawing Room originally enabled the Rothschilds to entertain their guests both inside and out.

The Drawing Room is perfect for dining for up to 80 guests, a standing reception for 100 or a theatre-style seating for 90.

Sumptuous dinners and grand formal receptions were the order of the day for the Rothschild family and, within the Dining Room.

Suitable for dining for 80, theatre-style seating for 90 or standing receptions for 100, today your guests, too, may enjoy the excellent surrounds that this beautiful room has to offer.

THE LONG GALLERY

The elegant Long Gallery, with its' nature-inspired gilding and adornments adjoins both the Drawing Room and the Dining Room. From here, the south-facing French windows open onto the terrace and the magnificent views of the south lawns.

Decorated in white, gold and green, the Long Gallery was one of the Rothschild family's favourite spots and the stunning centre piece, the oval ceiling, depicts the Four Seasons with playful cherubs set against the sky.

A perfect venue for standing receptions, long table dining for 30 guests or the location for your evening bar and buffet.

THE ORANGERY

The Rothschild's Orangery is an exemplar of stunning glass architecture that previously housed the family's plethora of exotic fruits and plants. The sparkling water of the Horseshoe Pond that sits in front of the Orangery offers beautiful reflections of the building, interrupted only by the charming ornamental fountain.

The allure of the exotic flora may be long gone but the beauty of the Orangery has now been gloriously restored for you and your guests to enjoy today. Perfect for small events for up to 80.

Whether you're looking for the romantic ceremony venue of your dreams, an intimate dinner to celebrate that special occasion or an evening reception space then look no further.

THE TEMPLE

The Temple is one of the older buildings within Gunnersbury Park and has a long history of lavish entertaining. Sitting serenely on the Round Pond, it was built in the 18th century for Princess Amelia as a venue where guests could enjoy spectacular views over west London extending to the Kew Gardens pagoda. The parkland trees have grown a bit since then but the views are still something to behold!

Today, the Temple is an intimate venue for up to 50 guests for ceremonies or receptions during the summer months. The Italian Garden is situated directly behind the classical building and, with its' iron rope arches forming an arcade of trelliswork covered in wisteria, it's the perfect location for any event looking to impress.

THE GROUNDS

As part of the recent restoration, your guests will be able to enjoy views of the park that replicate its' 18th century heyday. The grounds' unique heritage and landscape offers a boundless number of photo opportunities to ensure those unforgettable, magnificent memories.

Whether it be amongst the fresh blossoms of spring, in the glorious summer sunshine, the rich colours of autumn or the bright, crisp frost of winter, the ever-changing beauty of our 72 hectares of parkland and water features will provide a backdrop for cherished photos and memories to last a lifetime.
